OVERVIEW

Management of Claims and Disputes [FIDIC Module 2]

This course on claims and disputes has been designed to be highly practical and includes active participation in discussion sessions. The special two-day training offers a comprehensive and in depth up-to-date review of how to effectively and successfully present and defend claims under the FIDIC suite Contracts, 1999 edition. This claims' class is suitable for all the Parties and other stakeholders involved with a FIDIC Contract, 1999 edition – the Employer, the Project Manager, the Contractor, the Engineer, and the DAB Members.

CLAIMS & DISPUTES

FIDIC 1999

By having a good understanding of the FIDIC contract and claim management approach and the resulting responsibilities and rights of the Parties under a 1999 FIDIC Contracts, efficient claim may be achieved. The tutors of the course are a very experienced German engineer and a renowned German lawyer, who both have had extensive involvement with management of projects and related dispute resolution. Dr. Hök has conducted trainings in various parts of Africa, Asia, and Europe. He worked for ADB, MCC and JICA and KfW.

FEEDBACK

Contract Claims and Disputes

Feedback from the delegates from previous classes in Copenhagen was excellent and Nestor is looking forward to presenting the claims' course in Cyprus in collaboration with CAYCE.

FORECAST

Dispute Adjudication

We are working with our tutors to develop a further detailed two-day course which will look at the more practical side of dispute resolution, including an in depth training on the use of DABs and arbitral tribunals. Anyway, this two-day course will be of benefit to all who are involved in claims under FIDIC forms of Contract, 1999 edition. This course goes through the claims' procedures and claims including the change clause. It covers CPM issues, delay analysis, causation issues and quantum problems. Contractor's views and Engineer's views will be discussed. Finally the course will show how a DAB works and explain typical situations in dispute preparation and resolution.

EXPERIENCE and LICENCE

FIDIC trainings 1999 FIDIC Conditions of Contract (Construction/Design-Build), Claims & Disputes

Particular Experience

FIDIC Nestor trainings are based on the particular experience of its trainers being involved in projects throughout the world. Their deep experience in all type of projects based on FIDIC Books (Red Book, Yellow Book, Silver Book, Gold Book, Subcontract) enables the trainers to focus on the real problems. The trainers have acted and act as Engineers, counsels for both employers and contractors, as well as conciliators, mediators, adjudicators and arbitrators.

Tested Course materials

Nestor trainers have published various articles and books dealing with practical issues under FIDIC contracts. The training materials have been tested and used with great success in Africa, Asia and Europe. The trainers have been involved in the updating of the FIDIC books and also in the translation of FIDIC books in French and German. In 2010 Axel Jaeger and Sebastian Hök have published the book headed FIDIC for Practitioners.

Adjudicator's assessment

The Nestor team has also established a FIDIC course system in Germany, which leads to an adjudicator's assessment for the German adjudicator's list held by the German Association of Consulting Engineers VBI with the kind permission of FIDIC. Over the past five years the Nestor team has successfully trained all German speaking adjudicators having been listed on the German list. This training and assessment concept has been adopted by JICA and used for the initial adjudicator assessment in Japan, Philippines, Indonesia, Sri Lanka and Vietnam. It was also successfully tested in France and Tanzania.

FIDIC License

Nestor trainers are FIDIC accredited. Nestor courses and seminars are authorized by FIDIC. Participants will have the benefit of direct access to FIDIC knowledge and FIDIC accredited and licensed trainers. All attendees will be provided with a Certificate of Attendance.
