Second Life

The project seeks to reveal all the heritage present in the territory of Roquetas de mar in order to give it an important place in the project “second life” To get this target, we propose an extended definition of patrimony that allows to highlight different existing elements such as heritage, local materials, daily practices, Poniente’s landscape, etc. Then we introduced those patrimoniales elements in order to develop a city that can evolve and adapt itself according to the economic, demographic or ecological pressures that the territory has to face.

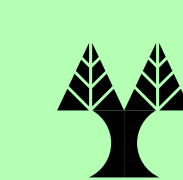

Graduated from Nantes and Granada’s high school, we use to work together on competition and architectural project that question the notions of patrimony, materiality, time, landscape or production in the city. We especially worked with Carlos and Carmen to respond to european 16 because they work (or they have worked) on subjects in relation with Roquetas del Mar like food production in the city and immigration.
