Introduction

The International Federation of Consulting Engineers, commonly known as FIDIC, is an international standards organization for the consulting engineering & construction best known for the FIDIC family of contract templates.

The key ingredient for their success as industry standard lies in their balanced approach to the roles and responsibilities of the main parties, as well as the allocation and management of risk. They have recently been revised in December 2017

Traditionally Construction Contracts have been using Alternative Dispute Resolution for settling their disputes.

In Cyprus the private and public contracts mainly use Arbitration as the method of resolving their disputes.

Since 1995 FIDIC contracts introduced the idea of Dispute Boards, which replaced the idea of the Engineer's decision. Data available from the Dispute Resolution Board Foundation suggests that the average speed of Dispute Resolution using boards is about 56 days and that 98% of disputes are successfully resolved at board level

ABOUT THE ORGANISATIONS

ΕΠΙΣΤΗΜΟΝΙΚΟ ΤΕΧΝΙΚΟ ΕΠΙΜΕΛΗΤΗΡΙΟ ΚΥΠΡΟΥ

ETEK (ETEK – www.etek.org.cy) is the statutory Technical Advisor to the State and is the umbrella organization for all engineers in Cyprus. The practice of the Engineering Profession in Cyprus and the use of the relevant titles are limited to people who register with ETEK. Registration with the Chamber (current members exceed 12.000) is possible, provided that the strict criteria set by the law are satisfied, enabling provision of quality service to the public. Limited liability companies (LLC) can also register with ETEK. The Technical Chamber of Cyprus strongly supports the promotion and facilitation of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes that work in the public interest and may enhance economic growth. In that context and while the Chamber's Arbitration Centre was already operating according to the article 5 of the Law 224/1990 that established ETEK as the statutory technical advisor to the State, the Chamber has founded in 2017 the ADR Centre of ETEK. The ETEK ADR Centre aims to offer high quality ADR services (arbitration, adjudication, mediation) in the whole spectrum of the engineering practice, to promote the use of ADR to its members and the general public, and to offer training services in the field of ADR. The Centre, situated in old city of Nicosia, follows international quality standards and provides, among other things, Arbitration and Adjudication Regulations, which define the processes followed by ETEK, as well as Code of Ethics for ETEK arbitrators and adjudicators.

Cyprus
Branch

CI Arb

The Chartered Institute of Arbitrators Cyprus Branch was founded in 1976 and has 97 members. It is also an approved provider of the Institute's Courses and provides courses for all levels of CI Arb membership.

In addition to providing education and training for arbitrators, mediators and adjudicators, the Institute acts as an international centre for practitioners, policy makers, academics and those in business concerned with the cost-effective and early settlement of disputes. This gives users confidence that the very best people are helping to resolve their dispute.

The diversity of cultures and practices across the continent and other countries around Cyprus enables the Branch to bring together a unique mixture of dispute resolution methods, practices and experiences.
