

“Reuse, Redevelop and Design: How the Dutch deal with heritage”

Presentation by Mr Ben de Vries

Project Manager Strategy and International Affairs of the Cultural Heritage Agency of the Netherlands

Exhibition by the Cultural Heritage Agency

Ministry of Education, Culture and Sciences, Kingdom of the Netherlands

Wednesday, 11 December 2019

18:30 – 20:30

Amphitheater, Department of Town Planning and Housing

Headquarters, 5-6 Kinyra Street, 1102, Nicosia

" Where there are vacancies, there is room for something new. Surprising combinations often follow as old and new are intertwined in many ways. Adaptive reuse offers an opportunity to exploit heritage, make it profitable and accessible, and to add new quality and meaning to it. The creative way that Dutch architecture firms deal with heritage is also spreading beyond the country's borders. Ever-changing but always remaining recognizable."

Paul Meurs
Marinke Steenhuis

The exhibition will remain open at the Lobby of the Department of Town Planning and Housing (Headquarters), during working hours until January 6th, 2020